An apology for the true Christian divinity,: Being an explanation and vindication of the principles and doctrines of the people called Quakers

by Robert Barclay
